

Glendon Palmer - Senior Vice President and Head of Urban Content

Glendon Palmer oversees development and production of urban content for AGC Studios, which was founded and launched by Chairman and CEO Stuart Ford in February 2018 as a platform to develop, produce, finance and globally license a diverse portfolio of feature films, scripted, unscripted and factual television, digital and musical content from its dual headquarters in Los Angeles and London. The studio's output will have a wide-ranging multicultural focus, designed for exploitation across an array of global platforms including major studio partnerships, streaming platforms, traditional broadcast and cable television networks and independent distributors, both in the US and internationally. Previous to AGC Studios, SVP of Development and Production at IM Global, where he was an executive producer on such projects as Southside with You, which premiered at the Sundance Film Festival, and Fifty Shades of Black, which was a success internationally and a box office hit for US distributor Open Road. Prior to IM Global Palmer was an independent film and television producer who developed and produced the breakout hit Jumping the Broom for Sony Pictures, and a production executive at Robert L. Johnson's Our Stories Films and Will Smith's Overbrook Entertainment. He began his career at Savoy Pictures International before transitioning to a position at the management company Handprint Entertainment. Palmer is a graduate of Northwestern University.
